Rationale

Pinot Noir is capable of some of the most exquisite examples of red wine imaginable. Unfortunately, in many spots globally, it is at the mercy of fickle weather and, as such, less than spectacular harvests making it one of the most challenging grape varieties to produce.

California's moderate Mediterranean-like weather combined with cool coastal enclaves -- from Anderson Valley in the north to Santa Barbara in the south -- provides Pinot Noir growers more security in their efforts to cultivate this most difficult of grape varieties.

Mendocino County: The Pinots are crisp, and lighter on their feet than their Sonoma cousins. The sandier soils and Northern latitudes produce floral tones not found elsewhere. Pinots display red berries, plums, cherry tomatoes, sour red cherry, Orange Pekoe tea, and bay leaves.

With over 25 years in the wine business in Central and Northern California, Jason Drew brings a vast depth of knowledge and a holistic perspective to his winemaking. He focuses on small lot coastal Pinot Noir and Syrah from Anderson Valley and the Mendocino Ridge. This wine is from their estate vineyard on Faite De Mer Farm on the far western coastal edge of the Mendocino Ridge.
